

Schedule at a Glance

8:00 am – 8:30 am Registration

8:30 am - 10:30 am

Treating Neck and Low Back Pain

Avi Magidoff, L.Ac.

As neck and back pain are extremely common complaints seen in acupuncture practice, this course will look at practical ways to address these problems by relying on palpatory findings to obtain immediate and lasting results. Avi will have the opportunity to treat one patient for demonstration purposes. If you would like to bring a patient to be treated, please call Avi at 603-531-3130.

10:30 am – 12:30 pm

Treating the Lungs In Chinese Medicine

Mark Evans, L.Ac.

Learn the different ways to view problems of the lungs in Chinese Medicine and gain a clearer understanding of the solutions. This course will cover the ancient view of the lungs and reveal the many options for treatment, including cupping, bleeding, acupuncture, moxibustion and herbal therapy. Designed to supplement the understanding and treatment of the lungs by practitioners of Chinese Medicine, this 2-hour segment will reveal how to better care for this tender organ in your practice.

12:30 pm – 1:30 pm

Lunch

Provided by Emerson Ecologics

1:30 pm – 3:00 pm

Jinqei Pulse Diagnosis

Andrew Wegman, L.Ac.

Use this simple comparison between the radial and carotid pulses to save time in formulating an effective point prescription and cut to the heart of a patient's illness. Learn the historical basis of this technique and gain hands-on experience practicing in a group setting. Attendees will learn a valuable clinical diagnostic tool while understanding its potential role in a variety of clinical settings.

3:30 pm – 5:00 pm

NHAAOM Annual Meeting

Members: Find out what's happening in the NH acupuncture community, cast your vote on various issues affecting our growing profession, discover volunteer opportunities and get to know your fellow members!

Speakers

Avi Magidoff, L.Ac. graduated from San Francisco College of Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine. A popular speaker both in the U.S. and abroad, Avi specializes in and teaches Japanese acupuncture techniques. He is NCCAOM certified and licensed in the states of New Hampshire and California.

Mark Evans, L. Ac. graduated from the Colorado School of Traditional Chinese Medicine in 2001. For his first five years in practice, Mark's clinic was located in Colorado, with its dry, warm climate. Now living in wet, cool New Hampshire, Mark has gained invaluable experience in the treatment of lung ailments and their regional presentations. Mark has been treating lung conditions since his first day in practice and feels confident he can improve and expand your treatment of the lungs with a wide range of Chinese Medicine tools.

Andy Wegman, L.Ac. graduate of Stonehill College and New England School of Acupuncture. In 2007, Andy established Manchester Acupuncture Studio (MAS) to help counteract the high cost of health care in New Hampshire. By utilizing a community acupuncture business model, MAS has accommodated people of all financial means while practitioners maintain creative, effective and safe treatment protocols. More than 1000 treatments are given at MAS each month to people from the greater Manchester area.

CEU

Courses pending approval for (5) NCCAOM continuing education/PDA credit.

Location

Sponsored by Emerson Ecologics at:

SERESC Conference Center

29 Commerce Drive
Bedford, NH 03110-6835
(603) 206-6800
www.seresc.net

About the NHAAOM

The New Hampshire Association for Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine is a professional organization comprised of New Hampshire state licensed acupuncturists, acupuncture students and associated members who wish to foster the growth of acupuncture and Oriental medicine in the state of New Hampshire. The NHAAOM membership is committed to:

- Expand public awareness and promote access to acupuncture and Oriental medicine
- Promote the integration of acupuncture and Oriental medicine into the conventional allopathic medical system in the state of New Hampshire
- Protect the integrity of the profession by educating the public and monitoring legislation affecting the profession in NH.

Please visit www.nhaaom.org for more information.

About Emerson Ecologics

Emerson Ecologics is the leading provider of products and services to the professional integrative healthcare community, distributing over 16,000 products from hundreds of industry leading manufacturers. As a result of their broad product offering, e-commerce capabilities, commitment to the industries focus on safety and quality, and expanded logistics network, Emerson serves as the one-stop source of products, services and educational solutions for the integrative healthcare practitioner.

Visit www.emersonecologics.com for more information.